

Spirit of Music Seniors Outreach

Spirit of Music Seniors Outreach is a new pilot project of Visions, St. John's, and St. Paul's United Churches with Songs Through Time Performances.

We work together to offer musical-spiritual events within the home of isolated seniors who can no longer attend their weekly worship and church events.

This program will help address the social isolation of seniors by helping congregations and pastoral care teams bring the love and care of their church communities into the homes of those in greatest need.

It uses the power of music to connect, uplift and empower senior's spiritual health.

The Ann Baker Fund for Innovative Seniors' Ministry
at The United Church of Canada Foundation

The Spirit of Music combines music with reflective story-telling and active listening.
It is an innovative, creative process of faith discovery as we listen to our isolated seniors and build an intimate and communal spiritual gathering
with them
in their own homes.

*Christine MacLeod is a music educator and performer who runs a Music Innovation business, Songs
Through Time Performances.*

She was formerly a United Church minister and currently focuses her spiritual work in “Music as Spirituality” offering workshops and inspirational leadership through musical connection.

Christine lives in New Scotland, N.B. with her family.